ABOUT The name

Holly Golightly is the name of the main character in the 1961 film Breakfast at Tiffany's, one of the truly great film classics, written by Truman Capone in 1958.

The designer loves this film not because of its somewhat simple story, but more because the costume designer in the film has managed to create classic outfits for the main actor that are still relevant today and never go out of style.

According to the designer, Golightly stands for timeless fashion. If you buy a dress or top from Golightly, it should be relevant to have in your wardrobe for many years.
