SUSTAINABILITY

This is Home

At Merrell, we've deepened our commitment to sustainability. We believe that nature has our back—so we're helping to minimize our impact on the outdoors by making footwear and apparel with recycled, renewable, or organic materials.

This is Home.

Merrell

SUSTAINABILITY GOALS

By 2025...

100% of our products will contain organic, recycled, or renewable materials.

Reduce shoe and apparel samples by 50%.

Reduce plastic packaging.

Reduce water waste by 40MM gallons.

Complete 10,000 volunteer hours.

100% of our apparel will be responsibly sourced.

PRODUCTS + MATERIALS

Made with the outdoors in mind.

The outdoors is a place where we all thrive. We plan to keep it that way. It's our goal that by 2025, everything we make will include recycled, organic, or renewable materials.

This year, we have been happy to offer consumers some of our most sustainable products such as Moab Speed, Moab Flight, Tencel Tees, and Repreve Socks. We were also excited to add Hydro Moc BLOOM and Moab 3 to the portfolio which have both been well-received by consumers.

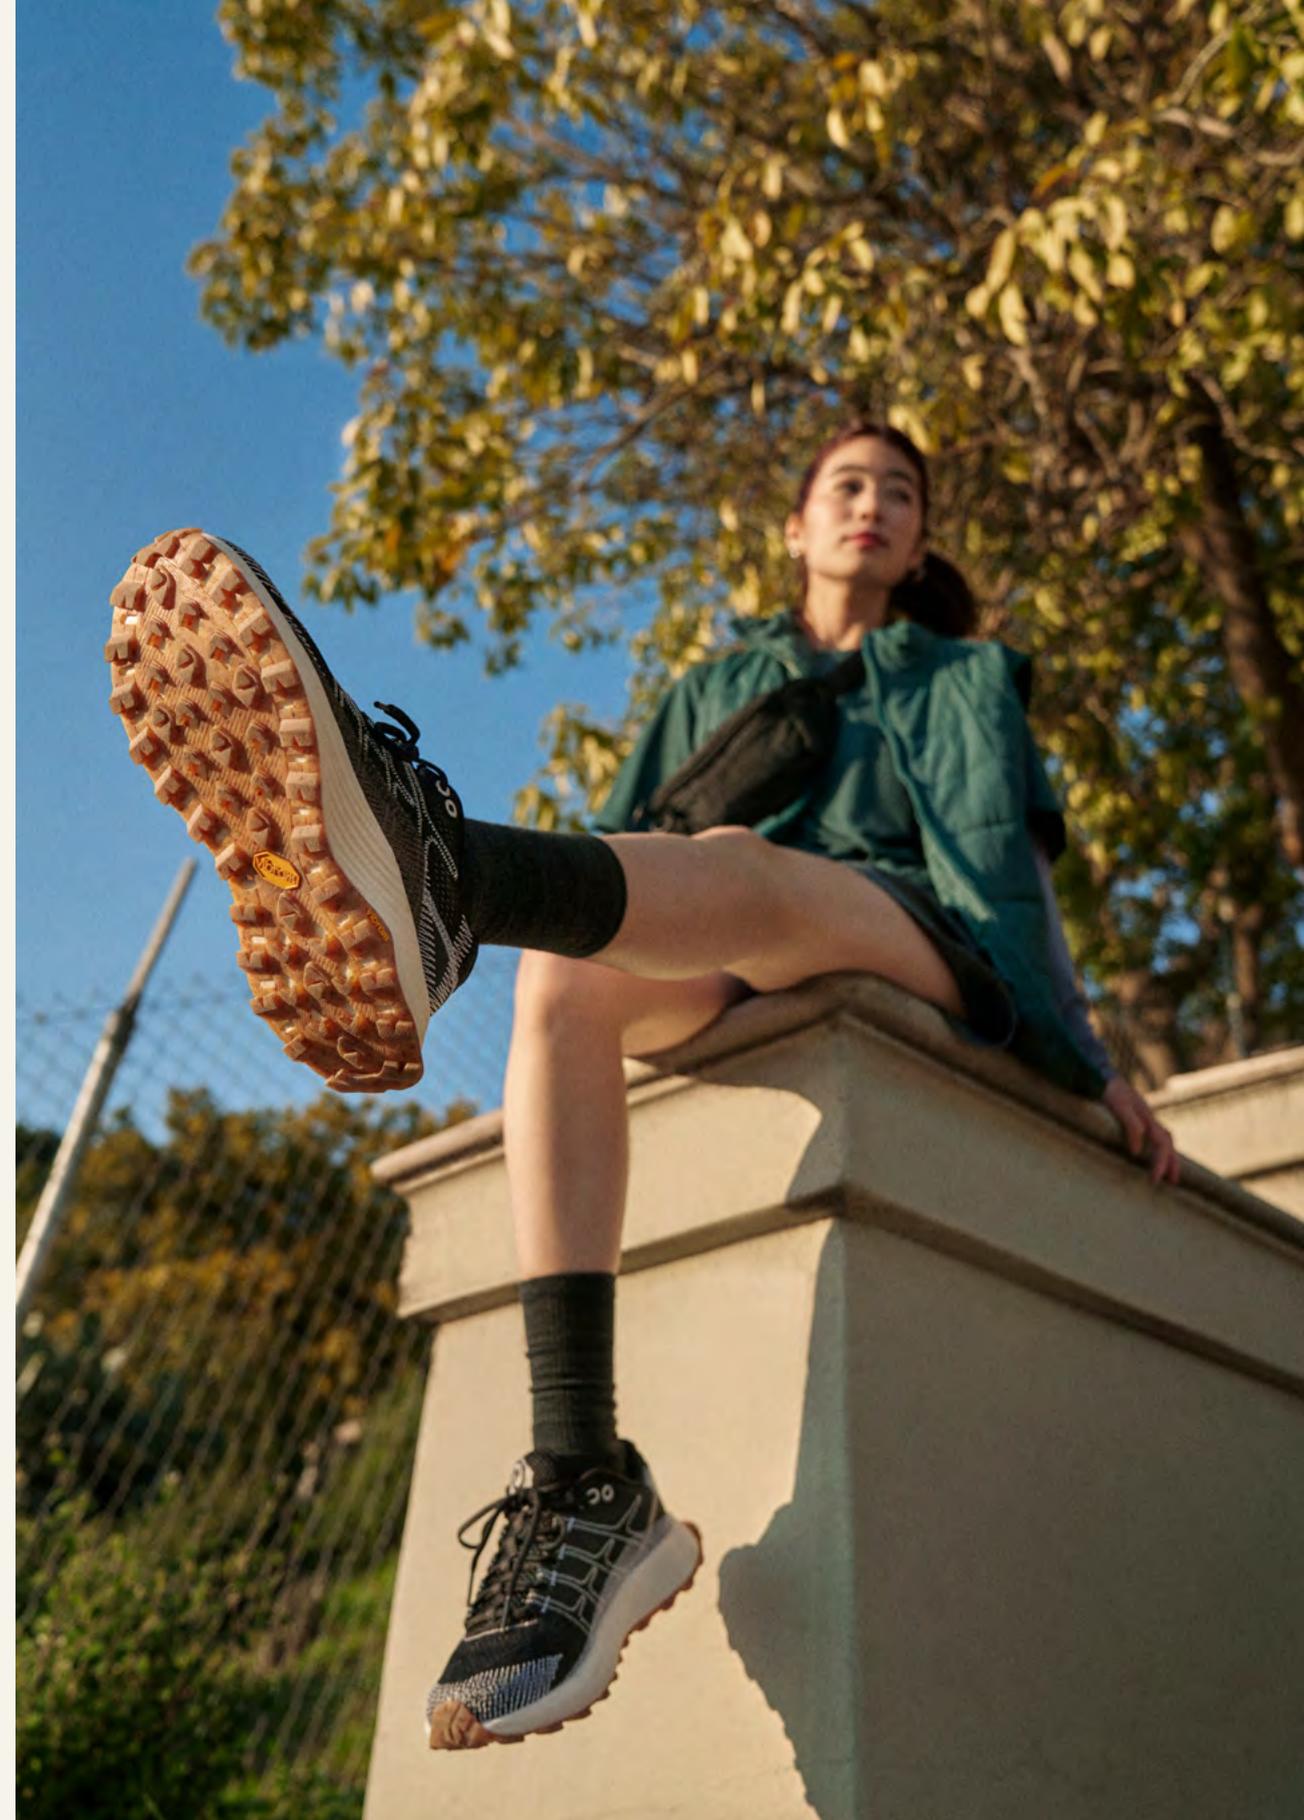

In 2023, we eagerly look forward to the continued growth of our portfolio of sustainable products. This includes the introduction of Moab Scrap, Jungle Moc Scrap, and Speed Eco in Spring 2023 as well as Renew in 2H23. We'll also introduce an impressive assortment of apparel options over the course of the year.

RESELL + RECYCLE

Available in the U.S., EMEA, and the UK, Merrell ReTread is the first of its kind in the takeback economy in the footwear industry. Merrell ReTread is a resell and recycle program that offers consumers the opportunity to give back their pre-loved footwear. After items are received, they are restored and resold at a discount on the Merrell ReTread website. If a pair of shoes are no longer suitable for the trail, they are placed in the proper recycling stream.

Making strides toward our goal of keeping 300,000 pairs of shoes out of landfills in 2025, we have already collected over 10,000 pairs of shoes through Merrell ReTread.
