the brand. Nora represents those who care for timeless, yet trendy pieces. Jewelry that makes you feel at ease. Like when you take a hike in the Norwegian forests and reach a top with a view over the fjords. That peace. Majestic, graceful, and pure. It's something that you know will always be there – something persistent.

meet our beautiful model, Nora. Yes, her name is Nora. She is the niece of the founders, and ever since Nora Norway saw the light of day in 2006 she has been the anchor that keeps them grounded during all the hard work and success. The first collection came out in 2007 and Nora Norway is today the oldest and largest jewelry producer in Norway.

lovebug. Ladybugs are a symbol of good luck and fortune – something we are grateful to be receiving ourselves. We could never imagine the kind of journey we have had, and that our jewelry has been accepted and loved all over Norway and beyond. The ladybug appears in the spring to sprinkle some joy and grace on the world. We added a bit of extra spark to it, so it can shine even brighter around your neck.

made for huggin' you, baby. When our founder's son was three weeks old, he got his first and only teddy bear, Bamsen. No other toy was ever to compete. It was a bond that never could be replaced.

Now, 28 years later, Bamsen is still here. Companions for life, without any strings attached. Bamsen is the symbol of someone you can trust to be loyal, to provide unconditional love, and to spark pure joy. These are the pillars that carry the HugMe brand and products.
