thought

The image is a full-page abstract artwork. It features a large, stylized flower as the central element. The flower has a bright yellow center with white and brown speckles. The petals are painted in shades of orange, pink, and red, with some areas showing white and blue details. The background is a mix of teal, purple, and brown, with some white lines and shapes. A small, blue, circular object with white dots is positioned near the top of the flower. The word 'thought' is written in white lowercase letters on the teal background, appearing twice: once at the top left and once on the right side of the flower.
