

Sustainability at Gabor

As a globally active company, we bear responsibility for the environment and for society. This is our conviction, and this is what we live by, nationally and internationally. We see social and community involvement as an obligation. Sustainability and environmental protection are self-evident premises of our actions. Health is our top priority. Our products are continually inspected and contain no harmful substances. "This is how Gabor is" – find out more!

Committed

Being a part of society, Gabor benefits from the surrounding facilities and structures. For this reason, we see it as our duty to assume responsibility - towards society, toward our employees and also toward our suppliers.

Sustainable

Environmental protection has been firmly anchored in our corporate guidelines for many years. Among other things, we fixated the following there: "We value and protect our environment. Careful use of resources and environmentally friendly production facilities are our obligation." This characterises our corporate culture. We work according to the motto: Avoid - Reduce - Recycle.

Tested

Safety and health are our highest priority - with regard both to our customers and our employees. Therefore, we attach great importance to providing safe and environmentally compatible products and pay strict attention to compliance with all legal requirements. Our in-house regulations often go beyond the legal requirements.
