LINEN

Spring and summer collection is made of fabrics that are light, airy and fluid. Nothing makes those words better justice than 100% linen. Linen is light, breathable and naturally textured.

With time, it becomes even softer to the touch. If you have a garment in 100% linen, you can probably use it for generations. What could be more sustainable than that?

We use three different weights of linen in SS21 collection, but they are all smooth, have long fibers and premium quality. All styles are garment washed to get that nice and airy feeling. You can wash your linen garments in 40xxx and they will just get softer and nicer after each wash. If you want, you can steam them or use a light pressing to get them back to their original look. But if you want to save time and energy, just line dry them for a beautiful rumpled look. Enjoy the look!

TENCEL

Lyocell is a manufacturing process of rayon which is much more eco friendly than its relatives modal and viscose. Lyocell is made in a closed loop system that recycles almost all of the chemicals used. "Lyocell" is the generic name of the manufacturing process and fiber. Tencel(R) is the brand name of the lyocell.

Tencel(R) is made from eucalyptus from PEFC certified forests. Eucalyptus trees grow quickly without the use of pesticides, fertilizers or irrigation. Just like rayon and viscose, lyocell is 100% biodegradable.

The styles this season are made with extra care, so that the fabrics all features can be visible. Milook wants to give you a luxury feeling and soft touch for all your leisure times!
